THE LOW HEADRESS

S. T. D.—At one time we thought no woman past thirty-seven should dress her hair low. Now that we have discovered how very becoming and softening it is to the face, many women have adopted it. I would advise you to try a part, either in the middle or on the side, and wear which ever is most becoming. Save your combings if your shade of hair is very hard to procure. Large finger puffs are also seen again. Try to have a little individual style of your own.—Examiner.

The Honolulu Philatelic Society is arranging for a lecture on the subject that is dear to the heart of every stamp collector. This lecture will probably take place on Thursday evening in the Y. M. C. A. building, Cooke hall, at 8 o'clock, and will be free to the public. Mr. Warren H. Colson of Boston will be the principal speaker of the evening. It is stated that Mr. Colson is a past master in the art of postage stamp collecting and compiling and that all who are interested in stamps will be fully repaid for the time spent at the lecture. At this lecture the first public demonstration of the balopticon will be made. This is kindly furnished by the Honolulu Photo Supply Co.

The following report from Consul General John P. Bray, Sydney, appearing in Consular Reports, may indicate a good market for Hawaiian ohia ties in Australia:

"The Works Department of the States of New South Wales recently called for a supply of railroad ties to be used in connection with an extension of the line from Wagga to Tumbarumba, this State. Over 70,000 ties were required, and despite the fact that the needs of the Works Department were duly advertised, no one has as yet made the offer to supply them."

"It would thus appear that the local supplies of hardwood are being steadily reduced; for hundreds of thousands of hardwood ties have been and are still being exported from this State to the other States of the Commonwealth as well as overseas, and is now becoming a serious question as to where the supplies required for local consumption will be drawn from. Assuredly there is still a fair supply of growing timber suitable for this purpose, but it is only a matter of time when, unless the greatest care be taken of reforestation, it will be necessary for the Works Department to purchase their requirements from districts beyond the State borders. This condition of affairs is peculiarly interesting in view of the fact that the railroad lines of the State are controlled and operated by the State Government and not by private companies or corporations."

BIGGEST YIELD OF OIL THIS YEAR.

The California Oil World of Bakersfield estimates that the total output of petroleum in California will reach between 89,000,000 and 90,000,000 barrels, based upon the total for the first six months of 1912. This gross total for the six months is 43,716,72 barrels, and if the ratio continues the same during the last six months the total for the year will be 87,433,404 barrels. If several big gushers should come in, this total will be slightly increased to the World's figures.

It is gratifying to note that there is a steady gain in shipments, notwithstanding the low prices for the poorer quality of crude fuel oil. As the demand for the products of petroleum is constantly increasing all over the world there will be no limit to the industry and there will be no such thing known as an oversupply.

BRINGS CHEER FOR AUTOISTS

After speeding over three thousand miles of good, bad and indifferent roads along the Pacific Coast, which journey took him several months to complete, and resulted in a delightful trip with calls from the Canadian to the Mexican line, E. H. Lewis, a local automobile man, returns to Honolulu, declaring that he has discovered a fountain of perpetual usefulness for the ordinary rapidly disintegrating auto tire.

"No more punctures for auto tires need further distress the peace of mind of the motor car owners," predicted Lewis, who was a passenger in the Oceanic liner Ventura from San Francisco. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis shipped a large machine to the mainland and in it they toured the coast and also went inland to Tahoe.

The local automobile man declares that he has discovered a preparation that will preserve the heretofore delicate tire to such an extent that the over-taxed owner is dead sure to rise up and call him blessed, and perhaps elect him to the office of mayor of Honolulu.
